IEEE Consumer Technology Society Name Change Notice!

As of 16 August 2020, the Society's name has been officially changed from the "IEEE Consumer Electronics Society (CES)" to the "IEEE Consumer Technology Society (CTSoc)."

Message from IEEE CTSoc President

Dear All,

As a leading international professional engineering Society, IEEE CTSoc is determined to provide its members, industry and academia communities the best professional services.

Please note that CTSoc has made changes for the 2021 membership year. IEEE Students can now join CTSoc as a member for only $1 instead of $10.

I encourage you to renew your Society membership for 2021. As a CTSoc member, you will receive:

CTSoc World Newsletter
IEEE Consumer Electronics Magazine
IEEE Transactions on Consumer Electronics
IEEE Access Section Consumer Technology Journal
IEEE CTSoc Digital Library
IEEE CTSoc Resource Center
IEEE Electrification Magazine

If you would like to subscribe to the print version of the IEEE Consumer Electronics Magazine, please search for the title, select the print version from the drop-down menu at the product detail page, and "Add Item(s)."

I sincerely thank you for being a member of IEEE Consumer Technology Society (CTSoc) and for your support, loyalty, and continued trust and engagement in our Society.

Sincerely yours,

Wahab Almuhtadi
President, IEEE
Consumer
Technology Society

Awards Information

- The Ibuka Technical Field Award
- Distinctive Exemplary Industry Leader Award
- Corporate Innovation Leadership Award
- Outstanding Service Award (established in 1993)
- Significant Achievement Award (established in 1998)
- Chester W Sall Memorial Awards
- TAB Awards
- Conference Awards
- Consumer Electronics Magazine (CEM) Awards

Chapters

The IEEE CTSoc supports local chapters all over the globe. These local chapters hold meetings, invite technical speakers, organize workshops, and participate in many other activities. Many chapters publish regular newsletters and have their own web sites to keep their local members informed of their activities.

For more details, please visit: <https://ctsoc.ieee.org/membership/chapters.html>.

Recent Publications

IEEE Consumer Electronics Magazine (CEM):

The current issue in November/December is focused on “5G in Consumer Electronics “.

IEEE Transactions on Consumer Electronics:

The August issue can be found on IEEE Xplore.

Educational Activities & Webinars (EAW)

CTSoc provides education and professional development via webinars, tutorials, and workshops. Webinars are provided with audio/video live presentation on consumer technologies, systems, products and services of current interest to CTSoc members, engineers, researchers, scientists, students, and general public.

For upcoming webinars/educational events, please visit:

<https://ctsoc.ieee.org/education/educational-activities-webinars-eaw.html>.

Industry and Standards Activities (ISA)

TCTSoc has established an Industry and Standards Activities Committee (ISA Committee) that is chaired by the VP of IAS who serves at the pleasure of The CTSoc president. The current VP of ISA is Stuart Lipoff (s.lipoff@ieee.org) and welcomes input from CTSoc members and also from non-members among consumer technology industry stakeholders.
