Dear IEEE SIGHT volunteers,

As I mentioned last month, SIGHT held its last open Call for Proposals and received 29 proposals from SIGHT groups all over the world. This brings the total number of proposals received this year to 68 - the most in SIGHT history. We’re on track this year to set new benchmarks for other growth metrics as well - number of new SIGHT groups, number of SIGHT members, and number of funded proposals. I would like to thank everyone who has been involved with these activities. I deeply appreciate all you are doing to reach underserved communities with technological solutions that will have a long-term, positive impact.

On another project-related note, this year SIGHT is piloting a closed Call for Proposals for some Society SIGHT groups to submit project proposals as candidates for joint funding. This model will help SIGHT establish a strong, mutually beneficial relationship with these Societies, and provide a foundation to explore new partnerships in 2020 and beyond.

The joint-funding of projects isn’t the only new initiative SIGHT has been working on - we’re also introducing the first ever IEEE SIGHT Awards and SIGHT week! The Steering Committee and I made the Awards a priority in order to recognize those who are making phenomenal contributions to the SIGHT program. Award recipients will be announced during SIGHT week, which will be held the first week in December to celebrate SIGHT’s accomplishments, volunteers, and impact.

For all those interested, I warmly invite you to consider applying to be on the 2020 SIGHT Steering Committee or one of its Subcommittees. Without volunteers, the SIGHT program would not exist! Please review the section below for information on how to apply; can confirm that it would be an invaluable, memorable experience.

Finally, for those of you that are IEEE Society members, I hope to “see” you during my upcoming “Ask the Chair Session - Intro to SIGHT for Societies.” I’ll be talking about how SIGHT opportunities can specifically benefit Society members and our win-win partnership model. the International Workshop and Ideation Camp hosted by IEEE Germany Section SIGHT, and the most recent projects to be awarded SIGHT funding.

Sincerely,
Sampathkumar Veeraraghavan
2019 IEEE Sight Chair
